Dear Readers

It doesn't seem five minutes since I was writing for the October issue! Maybe that's because October was a busy month, with several successful events - a quiz, a concert, David Butcher's licencing, Harvest with well supported Food Bank items and the Autumn Fair - the latter attracting a good attendance and having a very happy atmosphere.

November sees us begin the run up to Christmas and more activities, but it is good to be busy.

Our next issue will be a double December/January edition, so please let me have items before 20th November. Don't forget we like short interesting items too.

Yours sincerely Joy Willis

Vicar's Letter

Dear friends

Last month you may remember, I was about to set off on an adventure, journeying to Ethiopia to see at first hand the effects of climate change and how folk there are working to become more resilient. It certainly has been a challenging and emotional trip.

Travelling over 1500km on rutted or non-existent roads, we met many proud men and women who talked of change in the seasons: of no rain in the wet times, of searing heat and new pests they don't know how to deal with.

One of the women I met, and talked with through an interpreter, was Fatuma. She was a slight, elegant young woman of 25, a member of a women's self-help group Christian Aid had helped to set up, with the aim of giving women more scope to change their own lives. She had spoken well when we asked the group about their work, telling how they were working together to produce a more efficient clay cook stove, which benefited them by reducing the amount of wood they were using, so there was less pressure on local woodland, less time spent gathering fuel and also less polluted air for the women and their children since the stoves were used outside the hut.

I wanted to talk to Fatuma one-to-one and thought it might help to show her pictures of my family. Idiotically I said that since I was a mother we would share some of the same concerns. How I wished I could take that back! Tears sprang to her eyes and she explained that she had been widowed suddenly in an epidemic and had no children. She had no family in the village, and no-one to help her farm her land. Custom dictated that only men could plough, but if a man were to plough her land, it would give them other rights that she was not willing to give. Literally all she had was the women's self-help group, which enabled her to earn a tiny income by selling the cook-stoves at the market – the difference between life and death. Any cosy illusion I had that our lives were somehow similar vanished.

Of all those we met Fatuma is the one I will always remember. Her raw pain, and the knife-edge on which she was living went right through me. Why is she there, and I am here with my comfortable life? Sheer chance. May we all recognise our good fortune and have open and generous hearts towards those who suffer far away.

REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY
10 th NOVEMBER

Ceremony at The Peace Garden,
by the Village Hall,
starting at 10.45am

Everyone is invited to come at 10.45am when we will gather for the Village Annual Community Ceremony of Remembrance at the Peace Garden outside the Village Hall. This is a non- denominational occasion at which the names of our war dead will be read out, poppy wreaths will be laid by members of the village, and there will be a two minute silence at 11am.

The Parish Council invites everyone to come in to the Village Hall after the ceremony to enjoy a warm up and some refreshments.

The Peace Garden was remade last year, with a silver, white and grey theme in the foliage, and is now a gentle reminder of the need for peace in our troubled world.

BARTON MILLS BAPTIST CHURCH

“Remember, Remember the 5th of November, Gunpowder, Treason and Plot”, we all know what that means - Bonfire night. Sadly, this doesn’t seem to be so much fun nowadays, the bonfire on the Playing Fields is no more, the simple “sparklers” have lost their sparkle and the fireworks now have a more sinister nature. Another day we remember in November, more importantly for some of us, is the 11th. On that day we are reminded that so many of our forefathers gave their lives and suffered greatly so that we can have the freedom we enjoy today.

As we get older we forget many things, however, memory is a wonderful thing. One dictionary tells us that memory is a recollection, a reminiscence, it suggests to us the recalling of usually pleasant incidents, experiences, or feelings from our past. In his latter years my father was losing his sight, however, he gave thanks daily that early in life he had been taught in Sunday and Day School to remember portions of Scripture.

So is it best for us to look back or to look ahead? We would be wise to do a little of both. The believer should not live in memories only, however, but with hope for the future. As we think about those who gave their lives for us, let us remember the sinless One, Jesus Christ who died on a cross and shed His blood guaranteeing our freedom from the penalty of sin. Sir Winston Churchill was honouring members of the RAF who had defended Britain during WWII. Recounting their brave service he declared, “Never in the history of mankind have so many owed so much to so few.” Of Jesus it can be said: Never in the history of mankind have so many owed so much to one Man. Yes His was the Greatest Sacrifice. Lord, help us to remember.

Our services remain the same: Bible Study at 7.30p.m. on Thursdays (Call 01638-713892 for Location) and Sunday School and Bible Study on Sundays at 11a.m, or the Worship Services at 3p.m. and 6.30p.m. Why not join us at one of these events, you will be made most welcome.

F. A. RUTTERFORD

Service of Remembrance – Lest We Forget

The Service of Remembrance will take place at the Village Peace Garden on Sunday 10th November at 10.45 am. We will remember and give thanks for the sacrifice of ; Stanley Oxlade, aged 37; Edward Smith, aged 34; Fred Balls, aged 30; Edmund Munns, aged 24; Walter Nicholas, aged 35; John Good, aged 19; William Good, aged 18; Sidney Grimwood, aged 29; Ernest Hockley, aged 23; James Nicholas, aged 33; Thomas Owers, aged 18; Ernest Race, aged 33; Cecil Smith, aged 20 Alered Smith, aged 32; G Close, aged 26; C Cutlack, aged 25; C Oxlade, aged 37; A Privett, aged 37; C Wright, aged 22; S Rutterford, aged 24; E Elmer, aged 30; Robert Munro; Noel Banks; Felix Thresher.

The two minute silence that we will observe, is I suggest, about more than the horrors of war and the ultimate price for freedom. This short pause in a hectic world is a symbol of our spiritual need to be still; the formal silence, a prompt to the memory which helps us mourn our losses; and the fragile poppy we wear, among other things, an acknowledgement of the limitations of human existence.

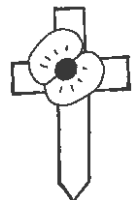

For there is more to us than merely people who remember. We are creatures of hope who long to hear the music of the future. We understand that simply to recall the past is not necessarily to deal with the past. Things need to change. The world is still not free of tyrants and despots and cruelty; our lives are still broken; and we ache for the time when God's new day will dawn.

As the Prophet Mica writes in the Old Testament about God's ultimate reign of Peace; "They will hammer their swords into ploughs and their spears into pruning forks."

So we reach out beyond our finite horizons to connect with our God whose everlasting Kingdom of justice and peace will come. We, whose days are like the momentary splendour of a flower, are invited to know the God who is the eternal home of all those who trust Him.

So as we remember the fallen and with them our own mortality, we remember that in Christ Jesus, the self-giving God remembers us all as his children.

October Report: For our meeting this month we had a return visit by Jen Lerner and her friend, Irene. She came in the Spring last year with seasonal 'Circle Dances' and as we enjoyed the evening so much we thought it would be nice to see her again. This time the dances were autumnal. Several were from Israel as Yom Kippur is about to be celebrated. A dance from North American Indians celebrated the elements – the land, sea, fire and air. One dance originated from the refugee camps at Sangatte, a modern circle dance with music by Chris de Burgh, about those caught up in that situation feeling nostalgic about their homelands. The dance that had us all beaten was a children's dance from Rumania about cracking acorns. There was much stamping and stepping I don't think that between us we would have cracked many acorns! Half the evening the dances we were up on our feet but after a welcome cup of tea we sat in a circle. These dances have been adapted by Jen for people who are less mobile and for the work she does in nursing homes. A really enjoyable evening. There are more photos on our website – www.wibartonmills.weebly.com

The next meeting at Barton Mills WI will be at the Village Hall on Tuesday, 12th November, at 7.30 p.m.

LOVE THE LARK VOLUNTEERS

BARTON MILLS WORK DAY

On Sunday 22nd September members of the River Lark Catchment Partnership (RLCP) spent a warm sunny morning working in the River Lark on the footpath from Barton Mills to Mildenhall.

The river bank in this area had been subject to years of erosion, much of this caused by the Signal Crayfish. RLCP volunteers worked to install a retaining structure for the bank made of natural materials.

The pictures below show volunteers driving in wooden stakes to provide the main support. Hazel wood bundles are placed between the stakes providing a barrier to the bank erosion. Hazel wood provides a safe area for small fish to rest and encourages other wildlife. Coir rolls are placed on top of some of the structures. These are pre-planted 'grow bags' made of natural materials and contain native river bank plants. Eventually the plants should grow along the river bank on the retaining structures providing a natural habitat.

If you would like to know more about the work done by the RLCP or could spare a few hours to help restore and conserve the beautiful chalk river, please visit us on Facebook. (River Lark Catchment Partnership) Or email: ahinchley@yahoo.co.uk
